TAPESTRY

Words and Music by Carole King

My life has been a tapestry
Of rich and royal hues,
An everlasting vision
Of an everchanging view, . . .

A wonderous woven magic In bits of blue and gold, A tapestry to feel and see, Impossible to hold.

If you are talking,
I will react to your eyes.
If I say I love you,
Do not listen to the words,
For they only have meaning for the moment.
But react to my look
Or touch which represents our world for the moment.

Working for a living
Gives you money
And several other side effects . . .
Headaches, laughter,
A few tears,
New friends,
A worse temper,
Independence,
A lack of boredom,
And fun.

Cruising parties and listening to tunes,
Playing tennis and hitting the slopes,
Good times keep rolling along . . .
Bogin' a monitor and swishin' a hoop,
Making new friends and keeping the old,
But the best memories last forever.

The 1976 presidential elections brought ex-peanut farmer Jimmy (James Earl) Carter to America's highest office. Carter, also a former naval officer and nuclear engineer, served one term as governor of Georgia before his victory. Jimmy's defeat over sitting president Gerald Ford, was somewhat unusual and for the first time since 1916. Illinois did not vote with the winner. Minnesota senator, Walter Mondale joined Carter in his victory as the 39th vice-president of the United States. As a moderate democrat, Carter pledged to restore the people's trust in government; his first major action in office was to pardon all draft evaders of the Viet Namese War.

Republican James (Big Jim) Thompson, who became Illinois' governor in the '76 elections, won by the largest plurality (1,390,000) in the history of Illinois' gubernatorial races. Thompson, former federal prosecutor, sent crooked politicans to jail before he became governor; former governor Otto Kerner was among those he incarcerated.

While serving his twenty-first year as mayor of Chicago, Richard J. Daley suffered a fatal heart attack on Dec. 20, 1976. During Daley's reign, he encouraged the building of many of the city's tallest and most impressive buildings including the Sears Tower, Marina Towers, and the Hancock, Prudential and Standard Oil Buildings. Daley presided over one of the last of the big city political machines in the nation.

The winter of 76-77 was the coldest and most severly damaging in Chicago's history. It caused serious depletions of natural gas reserves which required months to replenish. The severe conditions forced many of the oil companies to change their distilling schedules; they were forced to make fuel oil from crude oil where normally during the winter months they would have been making gas. Illinois senator Charles Percy introduced a bill to reorganize and consolidate federal agencies that deal with energy and energy conservation. Oil and natural gas producers could not afford to gamble on big explorations for fuel, yet may people questioned whether the oil producers planned to capitalize on secretly stored energy supplies.

explorations for fuel, yet many people questioned whether the oil producers planned to capitalize on secretly stored energy supplies.

In February of 1977, Chicago was the victim of a train derailment at Wabash and Lake Streets in the Loop. The derailment resulted when two elevated trains collided on a dangerous turn despite the multi-million dollar safety systems that were installed. The collision cost approximately twelve lives (including two pedestrians crushed on the street by the fallen cars) and over 200 injuries.

Hinsdale saw many of its buildings change in 1976-77; Katherine Legge Memorial, the train station and the Junior High School were among these. Katherine Legge underwent renovation after being idle for several years. KLM, previously a fire hazard, had the front entrance relocated, the new plumbing, heating and air-conditioning installed, and the locker rooms, showers and front stairway removed. The kitchen was re-done to better accommodate catering services. The railroad station was also renovated; passenger service was changed from the west end of the station to the east end. The west end was leased to the Hinsdale Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Hinsdale Junior High School's "Windhover"

Hinsdale Junior High School students began their first full year at the new school building but were threatened with a cut in the school budget. Due to decrease in state financial aid, many budget reductions were proposed, but a referendum to increase citizen taxes by 37¢ per every $100 maintained the curriculum. The school also acquired a steel sculpture on the west side of the building entitled the Windhover. The $20,000 sculpture, created by artist Robert Murray, weighs 4,500 pounds and its dimensions are 13 x 16 x 17 feet.

HAPPENINGS

The many happenings at HT were woven together in a panorama of events as . . .

Homecoming went commercial . . .
Student productions broke a leg . . .
Pep rallies kept the spirit strong . . .
Halloween tricked everyone . . .
Pep week brought many surprises . . .
Powder puffers held their own . . .
barely . . .
And everyone had a good time.

Dave Heydenberk resembles the kiss of death.

Homecoming was illuminated by several bright spots at Friday's pep rally. Meg Waterloo was crowned Homecoming queen with Sue Ward and Kathy Mehler as her first and second attendants.

Saturday morning desperation overcame lack of sleep as devoted laborers scrambled to glue, tape, or pin their floats together at daybreak, having worked all night. The seniors' efforts paid off as did Guard's with both taking first place honors in their divisions. Senior men's float was cancelled again in midweek, which disappointed not only senior men.

"Commercials" was the theme of the parade. The week climaxed with Saturday's 21-19 victory over Downers' North. "Dancing in the Moonlight" was the theme of the dance which was held at the Community House to the tune of "Games."

It was a family affair as the cast and crew of the Fall Play came through with a bang. Dick Hurrelbrink played the lead in Cheaper by The Dozen, the true story of a efficiency expert's attempt to model his family along the lines of an industrial factory.

Outstanding performances were turned in by Janine Carlson as Ann Gailbreth, the forlorn eldest daughter; Vicki Traut as the ever-compassionate mother; and the two narrators of the play, Susie Elkins and Tony Esposito.

What's the next line?

Love and kisses for the director.

Senior women kept up the tradition with their semi-formal dance held at the Ramada Inn in Burr Ridge. The music was provided by "Cat's Cradle." The Junior Girls' dance was held at the Willowbrook Holiday Inn and the band "Free- Wheelin'" performed.

Pep Week mixed tradition with imagination this year as many new events were added to the week's activities. Banner competition started off the week with landslide victory to the Seniors. Carnation sales, Super Bod finals, and a devil hunt filled the week with spirit. Friday's pep breakfast and doughnut sale kept the student body stuffed until the highlight of the day, the pep rally. At the pep rally the student body screamed and cheered their classes on in cheer, card, relay, and float competition. The new events of Super Bod and Pep King, won by Jim Harris and Jeff Moore, gave an added pleasure and thrill for the entire student body, especially the girls. Seniors won Pep Week over all, with the Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen following in succession.

The third annual Powder Puff football game ended in a 6-0 victory for the Junior Girls. Junior coaches Brett Clark, Pete Dressler, Mark Effrein, Casey Krajewski, Bob Smith, Scott VanVuren and Brad Ziola trained the novice players through a week of double sessions.

The seniors, coached by Jim Diamond, Jim Menza, Mark Molloy, John Pircon and Mark Schacht, kept pace with the juniors until the third quarter when Barb Anderson ran in for the winning touchdown. Junior quarterback, Mary Cullen, and senior QB, Sue Ward, displayed outstanding performances along with junior players Stacy Strode and senior players Sue Knapp, Patty Rodi and Camille Chihak. Both teams were supported by sr. and jr. men cheerleading and pom pon squads, and by the largest spectator crowd ever.

"With a Little Imagination," was the theme for the 1977 Variety Show. The show captured a wide range of talent from a ventriloquist act to a female barbershop quartet. ## GAMES

The 1977 games threaded HT tradition with new triumphs as . . .
State titles continued to accumulate . . .
HT women began to catch up to HT men . . .
Football's 1000 yard club gained its first member . . .
Hinsdale fish surfaced first again . . .
Badminton came up smashing . . .
And HT athletes and spectators combined enthusiasm.

Winning five of their last six games, the varsity gridders wound up the season with a 5-4 record, good for third place in the WSC. It was the first winning football season for the Class of 1977.

After dropping their first three contests by a touchdown each, the Devils rebounded to trip up highly-favored Downers Grove North 21-19, and give Hinsdale its 28th straight Homecoming victory. Another bright spot for the team was Central's 27-0 thrashing of rival Lyons Township.

Senior fullback Paul Drazin became the first player at HT ever to gain 1000 yards in a single season when he got seven yards on the last play of the year to wind up with 1005. Halfback Mark Schacht joined Drazin in the 1000-yard career club. Drazin and Schacht, along with John Pircon, Jim Harris, and David Novak, were named all-conference.

Varsity soccer team opened the season with high hopes of retaining their state championship title, but they soon realized that it was not as easy as once thought. Senior offensive players Mark Karambelas and Scott Von Eschen and defensive players Tom Herschel, Tom Cassidy and Tom Scholz were named to the all-conference team. Both Scholz and Cassidy were picked as most-valuable players and Herschel was named to the all-state team. Fullback Bill Moucka and goalie Craig Felde also made significant contributions during the season. Former state championship team player Bill Cinoman received a special award at the annual soccer banquet in recognition of his "courage and determination to win."

Hinsdale's swimmers kicked to their 11th state win, beating second place winners, Fenwick, by 32 points. Junior George Tidmarsh completed the season with two state victories, in the 500 freestyle and in the 200 individual medley; Tidmarsh broke the previous 200 I.M. record set by HT alumnus John Murphy. Senior Rick Heimann and juniors Darren Allen, Bruce Marshall, and Mark Diedrich took gold medals in the medley relay while freshman Skipper Wood placed fourth in diving. Throughout the season, exceptional performances were given by junior Mike Diedrich, senior Eric Lindenbaum, and senior divers Scott von Eschen and Karl Zimmel. Prior to state meet, HT swimmers reigned first in conference and in districts and won their 121st straight dual meet.

George Tidmarsh is all smiles after winning his second individual state title.

Varsity gymnasts captured first in Districts and went on to earn third in Sectionals. State qualifiers were Jim Brorson and Bob Maganini. Outstanding performances were given by Rich Licata on high bar, Ron Jackson on still rings, and Tom Haggerty on trampoline. Best all-around man was Steve Cashmen. Jim Brorson and Bob Maganini also scored well in free exercise and parallel bars.

Sophomore gymnasts took second in conference with a high score of 106. Their biggest rival was Oak Park who beat them in both conference and dual meets. Good all around and side horse men kept the team strong. High scorers were Tony Torres, Tom Grigas, Mike DeBickero, Dirk Blaesner, Dave Blouin, Louis Slezak, and Rick Kaufman.

Frosh gymnasts, despite a lack of experience and a poor showing in their own invitational, ended the season with a 3-1 record. Standouts for the team included Scott Redell on the high bar and Charlie Corrigan in all-around.

Tri-captain John Poynton anchors the side-horse team.

Sophomore matmen finished the season with outstanding performances by Mark Thornton, Scott McLaughlin and Dave Stouffer. Thornton wrestled to an undefeated season and captured first place in the holiday tournament. Tom Marsh, though injured halfway through the season, took second place in the tournament.

Freshman grapplers wrestled to a record of 7 wins, 6 losses and 1 tie. The team worked hard and showed great dedication. Inexperience in some spots and inconsistency in others seemed to be the biggest problems the team faced. John Allen triumphed with a 15-0 record, 11 of which were pins. Chris Llewellyn's 14-0 record included nine pins. Finishing with seven pins each were Greg Russell, with a season record of 9-6 and Bob Muller carrying a 9-4.

Kicking off with fall competition in touch football, the intramural sports program began one of its largest season ever. After six weeks of hard competition and sweat a team made up of basketball, baseball, and other non-football athletes emerged as predominant champions of their division.

Basketball, which began after Christmas vacation, still proved to be most popular intramural sport. A schedule of ten teams battled it out to be among the top five teams in the finals. A team consisting of John Pircon, Dick Hurrelbrink, Ken Majors, Rich Kozarits, Jim Walsh, Mark Schacht and others reigned supreme over all.

Everyone's up for the rebound.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA. First row: Julie Bergmann, Amy Parker, Paola Vacco, Sue Walsh. Second row: Sue Shipton, Kayla Connors, Dean Dietrich, Einer Forsman, Karen Deng.

Office Education made a first by selling personal valentines and holding both jewelry and candle sales. Members gained exposure to several aspects of the business world and "learned a lot." President Meg Waterloo went to state after winning second place in the shorthand competition for this area.

Business Club experimented with all areas of the business world. Field trips and meetings with working adults helped make this possible. Both bake and candy sales supplemented the treasury. According to President Andrea Kras, "It's both a fun and an interesting experience for all involved."

Distributive Ed Club won six trophies in their area chapter contest and went on to state. Candy sales boosted the treasury and a semi-formal dance was held in April. Members continued to gain working experience through their various jobs and an awards banquet was prepared for students, bosses, and parents at the end of the year.

Future Teachers of America continued preparing students for the responsibility of spreading knowledge. Various teachers aided by letting members take over classes and by allowing themselves to be observed while teaching.

Aquaettes held weekly meetings to practice and perfect synchronized swimming skills. Their annual show was combined for the first time this year with the annual Guard Show held in March with the theme "Journey Through Wonderland." The show raised the revenue for next year's activities.

H-Club continued to encourage pep and spirit throughout the school especially in athletics. Club members consisted of school athletes who excelled in school sports to the point of being awarded a varsity letter. The main purpose of H-Club continued to be the controlling of crowds at basketball and gymnastics events. This was the first year that a female member was admitted.

Computer Club met weekly to organize their various computer programs and exchange ideas concerning money raising and program variations. The club did raise money by running projects for students and faculty, which went for new equipment and next year's activities. Computer Club's main purpose was to learn the different programing techniques not covered in classes.

Chess Club spent their time learning to improve basic playing skills, raising money for tournament entry fees, and competing in a hectic conference schedules. Highlights of the year included the addition of Maine East to meet competition and the annual beer blast.

Bridge Club met Wednesday and Friday afternoons to play bridge and improve their skills and knowledge of the game. Members participated in the Illinois State High School Duplicate Bridge Tournament and a weekly novice duplicate tournament at the Community House.

Flying Club's second year got off the ground with a field trip to DuPage County Airport, including a visit to the control tower. Ground school training before flying was instructed by Mr. Meyers' and Mr. Gonzalez of the Jr. High. An increased membership boosted morale, yet no money was raised.

Ski Club arranged five different trips for ski club enthusiasts, giving students an opportunity to ski at reduced rates. Day-long excursions to Alpine Valley and the Playboy Club at Lake Geneva were highlights of the year.

Amateur Radio Club provided practice for its licensed members and a course of study for its unlicensed members. They operated their own station, WB9QJU, used for communicating with other parts of the world.

Photo Club met once a week to study and discuss various photo techniques and also to photograph different subjects. Occasionally they photographed live models.

WHSD joined forces with South. Besides broadcasting baseball, basketball, and football games, the stations instituted a new format with easy listening music in the morning and hard rock in the afternoon. A question-and-answer program was aired on a weekly basis.

AFS represented American Field Service, an organization promoting peace through international understanding. AFS fund raising activities included a square dance, a pizza sale, and international dinner, and a sockhop. The money they raised was used to send three more students abroad in 1977. These students are Margaret Tobin, Frances Anthony and Sandy Geisler.

Russian Club engaged in the state Russian tournament. Members had a picnic at Argonne National Laboratories. The club also sold cookies throughout various holidays and with the proceeds of the money held several parties.

German Club planned on sending a student to Germany through funds earned from tootsie pop and bake sales. Highlights of the year included a fondue party and visits to the German Cultural Center and the Cafe Lutz.

French Club went caroling during the Christmas season, took a trip to Diana's restaurant, and had a fondue dinner. Money was raised through candy and bake sales with some of it being donated to charity.

Latin Club was busy with various activities. They were represented in the Homecoming parade with their own float. Several successful flower and bake sales were held. To top the year off, members enjoyed an outing at Diana's, a Greek restaurant in Chicago.

Spanish Club members held a Christmas fiesta for a day care center and pinatas were made and donated to the AFS Christmas party. The club continued its support of a Mexican orphan. Trips included visits to several Spanish and Mexican restaurants, such as Mi Casa, Su Casa.

Strategy Club continued its second year as one of Central's more unique and interesting clubs. The club put its full effort into weekly war games learning the techniques of various battle simulations such as sneak attacks, and your basic grenade throwing. The club hoped to have a closer relationship and identification with the rest of HT's student body in the near future.

Varsity Club sponsored Homecoming weekend which started with one of the best pep rallies ever and ended with the queen's coronation ceremony that Saturday night. With funds raised by selling concessions at home basketball games, the club donated funds to varsity cheerleaders and student council. The club promoted school and team spirit with 100 members decorating the football players' lockers' and sponsoring Pep Week in February.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes continued to grow this year. Through weekly meetings FCA gave its members a chance to express their opinions about Christ and school. The club's main purpose was to use Christianity in sportsmanship and competition.

Girls' Intramurals played a major part in organizing girls' sports. The traditional Doris Diewall Memorial Scholarship was bestowed upon a deserving PE majorto-be. Funds for the scholarship were taken from the profits of working in the concession stands at home football games.

Physics Club gathered one to two times a week throughout the year to study and do homework. Although at times Physics was not taken seriously, clubbers did eventually improve their knowledge of the subject.

Calculus Club re-established itself after a long term absence from HT's extracurricular program. The club members concerned themselves with learning formulas and programs not covered in class. Other club activities consisted of studying, probing, scratching of chins, and practicing to hold their books. All members had a strong interest in Calculus and considered the club beneficial to their future life.

Sophomore Cheerleaders,

using money collected from previous squads, joined the crowd and invested in new uniforms. The uniform fund was supplemented by the fruit sale and occasional cookie sales.

Varsity Cheerleaders started the year off winning the "best skit" contest at camp. They then went on to cheer the football team through a winning season. They purchased new uniforms in time for the second half of the basketball season by selling citrus fruit in November.

Pom Pon squad gave this year's basketball fans a new twist to the Christmas season as their holiday routine was an adaptation of Tchaikovsky's "Nutcraker Suite" done in tights and tutus. Other original routines were done on Mom's day and for the Senior's final performance. Money was raised for expenses through the citrus fruit sales.

Yell Leaders lent their talented vocal chords in a concerted effort to cheer the men on to victory. The girls also managed to keep the school afloat with promotional banners and unmatched enthusiasm.

Image produced another successful literary magazine. The activities of the club itself ranged from publishing "Image," to organizing and running the annual creative arts contest. The magazine consisted of prose, poetry, art, and photography submitted by students.

The Devils' Advocate: a new name and look for HT's bi-monthly publication. Through the efforts of a staff headed by editor Craig Chval, the Advocate became a news magazine with frequent two page in-depth reports, a sports synopsis, and news events reported in a briefs column. Front covers included a salute to state championship athletics and student art work and photography. Editorials explained the new format and commented on new school policies such as hall passes, no coats, and stricter cafeteria rules.

Although the staff had trouble making deadlines, they did manage to put out a supplement, something that hadn't been done in nine years. Several editors stiched madly to produce the needlepoint used as the book's cover.

Girl Reserves raised money by holding a fall workday, selling car decals and sponsoring an unprecedented Halloween Disco Dance. The club visited the Hinsdale Sanitarium during Halloween, made Christmas stockings for needy children, collected for Muscular Dystrophy, held a bake sale for the Heart Association and donated to the school announcement board. During National Education Week, the girls held a tea for the teachers and gave plaques to each department head. The annual GR formal was held at the Glen Elyn Holiday Inn to the music of Free Wheelin'

Key Club sponsored a "Save a Life" blood pressure program. The club tested over 3,000 people for high blood pressure at banks in Hinsdale, Clarendon Hills, Naperville and Elmhurst and at several churches. They also tested students in school and competed for a single service project award with many other boys' service clubs in the state. The club also continued to run coffee nights for adults attending night school at HT.

Batgirls sold candy bars and sponsored an unprecedented anonymus mistletoe sale during Christmas to help raise money for their new uniforms. Batgirls also raised money to help the team go to Southern Illinois for spring training and worked at the basketball sectionals.

Hinsdale Gymnastic Organization announced and scored for all the gymnastics meets. The club ran a candy sale to finance their new uniforms. Some of the money from the sale went to the conference gymnastics meet which was also run by the organization.

Guard Organization continued to support the swim team by timing and announcing at home swimming meets. Guard also built the winning Homecoming float for the organization division.

Debate Club began its first year by debating in three meets. The team debated in affirmative and negative pairs against six other schools per tournament.

Student Council worked hard to accomplish a tremendous amount of projects beneficial to the school and student body this year. The organization supervised a successful trial opening of the courtyard in October, bought a tuner to pipe music in the cafeteria, and made plans to buy an illuminated announcement board for the front of the school. The group also became a member of the National Association of Student Councils this year, and sent students to represent Central for the first time at a Presidential Classroom for Young Americans in Washington D.C., last February. Along with the Variety Show, various activities included a Fine Arts Week in March, a movie night, sock hops, Christmas dance, and two blood drives. The group also published calendars and supported an AFS student for the school.

National Honor Society had a bonfire, a square dance and a bike trip for the entertainment of its members. Money was raised for these and other activities through the successful second annual anonymous flower sale. A generous amount was also donated to the senior class, the new student Council announcement board, and a Korean orphan that the club supports.

The Milton Club:

While other Clubs inactive reigned, ours
Began with difficulty and labour hard,
Mov'd on, with difficulty and labour we,
To bring forth fruits, joy, and eternal bliss,
And in Milt's Presence ever to observe,
His Providence and on him sole depends.
Thus, we in English, above the starry Spere
Our happy hours in joy and hymning spent.

Student Advisory Board

continued to improve the communication between the administration and the students through bi-monthly meetings with the Presidents Council. They upheld club intercommunication and student involvement with administrative officials. The board did not raise any money but rather discussed various ways in which the individual clubs could raise funds for school activities.

KNOWLEDGE

Students' minds were ever growing with new found knowledge as . . . New superintendent Thorson presided. . . Teachers became hall monitors . . . Hungry students needed trays to pass . . . Faculty members came and went . . . Lunchroom times were untangled . . . And both faculty and students learned.

Positions shifted in the Administration this year as fresh faces entered the scene. Dr. John R. Thorson was chosen from over 65 candidates to become the new superintendent of District 86.

The school interior was given a face-lift with the administration promoting programs to create a more pleasant and comfortable atmosphere. The classrooms and hallways were given a brighter coat of paint and new tile was laid on the passageway floors.

New and revised solutions were instigated for old problems, with both positive and negative responses. One of the more controversial had to do with cafeteria rules. Five lunch periods were cut to three with hopes of cleaning up the mess that had become a school landmark. A system of one entrance and four exits, with trays as your ticket out was enforced to free the cafeteria of its Union Station atmosphere, providing a quieter more open facility for lunch.

To improve inter-departmental communication a 16 member faculty senate was created.

Feeling that all involved

would benefit from the department's electives, art teachers maintained their high quality of teaching. Throughout the entire curriculum, students were taught to think creatively, to strive for perfection, and to appreciate others' work. While learning to deal with every material, style, and technique of art, HT's students produced some of the best art work in the state.

Deans and Counselors continued helping students adjust to life at HT. Students were again able to choose their own schedules for the coming year, after unforseen problems created by last year's use of computerized schedules. A new system, United Network Securities, was employed to reduce theft. The carrying of coats in the halls was restricted "to help cut down on truancy and create a better environment." Dick McLaughlin, who had been here in years past, returned to HT as a counselor.

Weighted grades were introduced on all levels of honors English classes. Another new addition, the debate team, was re-established after a long absence. Mrs. Hicks, the Debate coach, Miss Walsh, technical director, and Mrs. Sloan, a Sophomore English teacher, joined the staff. Throughout numerous meetings, teachers examined a junior-senior English elective program, to go into effect next year.

The physical education program continued to employ its Title 9 program, which gives equal emphasis to both girls' and boys' sports. The girls' sports program suffered from a shortage of women coaches, causing men from Central and faculty from South to fill in where needed.

A move was made to improve outside sports facilities through the purchasing of fiberglass coverings for the baseball bleachers and a new watering system for the soccer fields. A new gym floor and electric bleachers were also installed.

The largest change was with awards given for team sport participation. Numerals were given to the freshmen, new six-inch letters to the sophomores, and the traditional eight-inch letters were given to the varsity players.

PERSONALITIES

Hinsdale Central's varied personalities made HT life interesting as .

Everybody stuffed together floats . . .

Formals and discos kept students dancing . .

Homework, tests and classes filled the days while . .

Everyone partied the nights away . . .

All the classes rallied with pep and enthusiasm . .

And freshmen through seniors made themselves known . .

Dan Gerber came to the States from Bern, Switzerland, and stayed with the Joseph Arnold family. He played on the varsity soccer team, was a member of AFS, and was a photographer for the El Diablo. During his stay, Dan traveled throughout the West including Nevada, California and Arizona.

Karin Ekwall from Stockholm, Sweden, stayed with the David Webster family. She participated in AFS, interscholastic volleyball and badminton, and the ecology club. Karin's favorite classes were speech and choir and she enjoyed playing squash, skiing, skating, sailing and dancing. She traveled to much of the Southwest, including Arizona and Texas, and to Florida and Michigan. Though Karin found the states very commercial and built up, she did find the people very outgoing and busy with many activites.

Hebe Cavalcanti came to HT from Brazil on the Youth for Understanding Exchange Program. She resided with the David Black family during her six month stay in the U.S. and found Hinsdale's snow and cold difficult to adjust to. Hebe's hobby was taking care of plants. She also performed on the HT track team and won several awards for track in Brazil.

Antonio Irurita arrived to Hinsdale from Cali, Colombia. During his stay with the Gear gamily, Antonio traveled to Tennessee, North Carolina, Nebraska and Michigan. He enjoyed playing tennis, water skiing, dancing and listening to loud music. In addition to participating in AFS, Antonio worked on the stage crew, was a member of the Key Club, and said that biology, speech, and computer math were his favorite subjects. Though Antonio valued his experiences in the states, he thought that everything here was too scheduled and that there were too many rules.

With the theme "Big Red really chews them up," the freshmen put it all together by keeping up the tradition of taking fourth place in the Homecoming float competition. The class raised money by holding a bake sale and a tootsie roll sale. The highlight of the year was a girl-ask-guy sock hop held at the school.

The Class of '78 held the annual Junior Girls' Formal at the Willowbrook Holiday Inn in January. The class took second place to the seniors in both the Homecoming float competition and pep week. Money-making endeavors included garage, bake, and flower sales; even a pumpkin sale during Halloween. The treasury was increased as the class looked forward to senior year and prom.

With a first place finish in the Homecoming float competition and money in the bank, the Senior Class rolled on towards a June 3rd Prom rendezvous at the Conrad Hilton in Chicago. Fund raising projects continued up to the wire with the class selling Senior Mens' T-shirts to go along with the traditional Senior Womens' shirts. One of the highlights of the year was a victory in Pep-Week and the introduction of "Senior Fridays," giving special privileges to members of the Class of '77.

Some bad, some beautiful. I have so many dreams that blend into the past which are mixed with reality. But it is the dreams of the future in which I put my hope. Dreams that will become reality if I am patient and strong; but I must make sure I do not miss out on reality because I held on to a dream.

I dreamt that I was running towards a wall of rubber. As I came in contact with the wall, it gave and I tried to break through. But the nearer I came to breaking through, the greater the pressure to push me back grew. I tried again and again. Each time the wall stretched a little more, but each time I tried, I was thrown back; I could not tell if the wall only gave the impression of letting me break through.

Floating

Nothing to do but think about myself, my friends, and my future.

I discard, and rearrange.

Colors,

faces,

noise . . .

a swirling chaos.

I rebuild, bad memories dissolve, and I hear laughter.

I see, happiness.

my name . . . Pardon me?

No, I don't have my assignment.

Maureen Curtin

I will be just me, that's my aim and if I achieve that, then nothing else is important. What some see as my weakness, may well be my strength if used right; maybe circumstances have caused them to show up this way. But nothing is lost in making mistakes. I have gained strength from each mistake and now I know that I can face anything and survive; but that is not enough. I know that there is more.

The making of the 1977 El Diablo was an unforgettable experience full of everything from mad dashes to Convienient to afternoons of frantic typing. For all of the hours that went into the book, there is an equal number of people to thank:

Linda Kennedy, who acted as adviser, referee, judge and friend throughout the year.

Bob Moorhead, our yearbook representative, who inspired us to meet our deadlines and bailed us out when we didn't. Also. Nancy and Tom at Campus Photos who supplied us with both pictures and advice.

Sue Enright who spent every afternoon faithfully cropping pictures, making dummies and triplicating layouts.

Mark Frederickson without whom the book would be a series of blank pages.

Editors.

Mary Hannon who scheduled pictures and contended with temperamental teachers, students and photographers.

Patty Stevenson, Connie Borcherding, Jim Davis, Liz Hubbell and Annette Zeman all of whom picked up many of the pieces that were dropped along the way.

A special thanks to "Dec" Wingler and Mr. Lindon who proved that there was more to them than meets the eye, to Sue's car which faithfully delivered pizzas and cokes, and to the Advocate staff who both helped and hindered us along the way, but continuously kept us laughing.

To everyone who happened to pass by room 251 and added to the commotion and excitement, we thank you.
